DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

- Pg. 8, "Furth r" should be —Further—

Appropriate correction is required.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 1 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 6,443,196. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of the presently presented application are merely broader than that of the patent. Accordingly the narrow claims of the patent present a prima facie case of obviousness over those of the presently presented application. Therefore the claims of the presently presented application do not patentably distinguish over those of patent, 6,443,196.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 6, 8 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. With regard to the claims, the specification does not provide details for how the circuit includes a float valve whereby “the load” (i.e, what load?) is supported”.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 6 and 8-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 9, recites the limitation, “the engine” (line15), however there is no antecedent basis for this term. Correction is required.

With regard to claims 6, 8 and 10, there is no antecedent basis for “the load”, further it is unclear what load is being referred to, i.e. load from the cylinder(s), boom(s) or hydraulic fluid/oil. Clarification is required.

Additionally regarding, claims 6, 8 and 10, it is not clear what is meant by “...the boom is relative free in terms of reach motion (extension or retraction). Clarification is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Additionally, claims 1-5, 7 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Liu (6,763,863). With regard to claims 1, 2 and 7, Liu discloses a knuckle boom apparatus comprising: a machine base (1); a hoist boom (6) having a proximal end pivoted to the machine base (1) and a distal end remote therefrom; a stick boom (7) having a proximal end pivoted to the distal end of the hoist boom; at least one hydraulic hoist cylinder (10) mounted between said machine base and said stick boom (fig. 3, 5-7); a hydraulic circuit (figs. 2, 4-6, 8) for operatively supplying hydraulic oil to said cylinders, wherein said hydraulic circuit utilizing pumps (30,31) comprises an oil flow path between working ends of said hoist and stick cylinders so as to transfer hydraulic oil between said working ends; and means for producing reach (16).

With regard to claim 3, Liu discloses single level control (26, 28).

With regard to claim 4, Liu discloses the working ends of said cylinders are the base ends (figs. 1-8).

With regard to claim 5, Liu discloses the working ends of said cylinders to be rod ends (figs. 1-8).

With regard to claim 9, as best as can be understood as noted above, with reference to claim 1, Liu discloses a machine base, hoist boom, stick boom, at least one hydraulic hoist cylinder, at least one hydraulic stick cylinder and a hydraulic circuit. Additionally Liu discloses two pumps (30, 31).
